The Region of Western Macedonia covers a total surface of 9451 km², 7.2% of country's total. The nature of the region is mountainous, while Aliakmonas travels down through it. The Region of Western Macedonia is situated in the northern part of Greece and borders with Albania and FYROM. It is the only region without sea coast. Western Macedonia is divided into the regional units of Grevena, Kastoria, Kozani and Florina.

The productive character of the area is still determined by the energy industry and secondarily the fur industry. However, the virgin and still underexplored landscapes provide a fruitful ground for tourism to develop.

Vinicio Pajaro. A Legacy of Elegance and Innovation in Fur Design

Vinicio Pajaro was born in 1952 in Abano Terme, a charming town in northern Italy, near Venice. From an early age, he was captivated by the world of fashion, and his journey began with meticulous hand-cutting of fur garments for a select clientele. His innate talent quickly gained recognition, and by the age of 23, he founded Sap Fur, with his creations already sought after by both local customers and international visitors to the renowned spa town.

His brand rapidly expanded, establishing Vinicio Pajaro as one of Italy's most prominent fur designers. His reputation extended far beyond Italy, with his designs gaining popularity in Spain, the U.S., Japan, China, Poland, and Russia. His flagship ateliers in Madrid, Krakow, and St. Petersburg became destinations for political figures, celebrities, and high society, while his fashion shows were celebrated as grand events in the industry.

Beyond his own brand, Pajaro collaborated with numerous prestigious manufacturers, lending his distinctive touch to their collections. His exquisite creations are showcased not only in monobrand stores across Italy and Europe but also in his elegant boutique in Cortina d'Ampezzo, a glamorous Alpine resort known for attracting VIPs, politicians, and global elites during the winter season.

Fur Skins : Chinchilla and sable dressing, painting, retailer, wholesaler

Wanger Hungarian Fur had been established in 1978 and today it is the world's biggest breeding stock producer and fur trader plantation, a model farm of the West Hungarian University (Mosonmagyaróvár). We participate in several scientific researches and there are university students and teachers visiting us. We are using the Loyd's Register ISO9002 qualifying system's rules. We edit books and technological instructions. The farm in Komarom has 6000 breeding mothers. All these chinchillas are pedigreed and qualified. We coordinate Hungarian and foreigner chinchilla breeders in neighboring countries, help their work with further education and professional advises.

Furs: Readymade garments of fur skins, other garments,

Our story begins back in the 70's in Kastoria, Greece, the flagship of natural furs in Europe and worldwide. Passion for fur was inherited from our grandfather who passed all the art secrets to son and across our generation. This family-owned business started high-quality fur production and delivery in Germany and the rest of Europe in the early 70's. Later on in the United States (80's) and worldwide during the 90's. We stand for our exceptional quality, the exclusive collection, the unique pattern design. Our mission is to fulfil every woman's needs and therefore, we are highly personalised on our product. All our garments are totally tailor-made to ensure the best experience for our clients.

Sustainability is also a core value in our mission. Our garments are natural without harmful chemicals and very human friendly. Go natural – go responsible is our motto as natural fur is an infinitely recyclable material. It is a durable good that can be passed from generation to generation. Its qualities allow it to be totally redesigned and modified.

Moreover, all the process of the supply chain is fully transparent and comes from certified and regulated sources. At the same time, our product contributes to a circular economy and has a zero waste policy as waste is turned into biofuels and fertilisers.
